A message from LHSL Founder and President, Deb McPherson:

Flesh on Bones, Wagon Wheels Making Roads...

Based on a dream, filling out the bones in real time, Home Works has come of age this last year. With a group of individuals committed to working toward a more cohesive homeschool community, flesh was put to bones.

In my dream, I saw the end result, but was not sure of how to get there. The path ahead remains shrouded in unknowns, but we have put the wagon wheels in motion and have forged ahead. Looking back over the past year, we have seen a successful Science Fair, Election Night, Tennis Clinic, and Graduation. That is our path traveled. It points ahead to this coming year, and paves the way for those who follow.

This group of like-minded individuals was called the Lynchburg Home School Leaders (LHSL), because that was where I started. It has never just included leaders of support groups. Individuals who were not a part of any groups came to join us. But the Leaders were there, too.

As a part of the process of making roads, the path must be widened. The Lord spoke to Habakkuk in Chapter 2 about writing down the vision in stone. This summer, that's what we are doing. Writing it all down for you. To See. To Read. To Join.

LHSL is being re-named, to reflect what we really do. It was birthed because of the Home Works Vision, and now will be called Home Works Plan-It! It's not who we are; it's about the road that we are traveling, what we do. We are planning. For Central Virginia. For you. We are you.

The next meeting of Home Works Plan-It! will be on Monday, August 17th at 1pm at the White Hart Café in Lynchburg. You are invited to attend. We will be working on all the events for the coming year. If you are interested in being a part of this flesh-on-bones, wagon wheels-making-roads process, come.
